Rosmarinus officinalis 'Foxtail'

This aromatic evergreen perennial has semi prostrate growth habit, small, blue flowers and dense, nicely arranged, green foliage. It grows up to 100cm (40") high and spreads to 100cm (40") wide. The plant is native to Europe and North Africa.

Point of Sale:

The uniqueness of the variety is in the form of its branches that grow in a shape reminiscent of a fox's tail.
